Govt considers cotton export ban to curb price rise

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, May 18

AFTER WHEAT, THE government is considering a proposal to ban exports of cotton, at least until the end of this marketing year, on September 30, as the relentless rise in prices of the fibre and its by-products has severely hurt firms in the textile-garments value chain.

"The proposal (to ban export) is on the table, along with other possible options. A decision will be made soon, after considering the pros and cons of all options," an official source told FE. However, any such ban, if finally approved, will likely be reviewed before the arrival of fresh cotton crop in the month of October.

Several industry executives, including from the biggest garment hub of Tirupur, on Tuesday asked them to come up with specific solutions within a week for further consideration, while asking exporters to reduce cotton dispatches voluntarily.

The government, on April 13, removed an import duty on cotton effectively at 11%, including a 5% basic customs duty, agriculture infrastructure development cess and surcharge) to shore up domestic supplies. However, the prices still continued to rise. India's cotton exports jumped 48% in FY22 from a year before to $2.8 billion.

Local prices of several cotton varieties have more than doubled in the past year. For instance, the price of the ICS-105 variety (fine 28 mm) in the key producing state of Gujarat hit ₹1,01,000 per candy of 35 kg each on Wednesday, just compared with ₹45,300 a year before.

India's cotton exports jumped 48% in FY22 from a year before to $2.8 billion

As FE had reported earlier, scores of export orders have either been cancelled by Western buyers or been diverted to India's competitors like Bangladesh, Vietnam, China and Pakistan in recent months, after the steady surge in cotton prices forced domestic players to try and renegotiate deals.

Cashing in on a resurgence of demand from advanced economies, India had shipped out textiles, garments and allied products worth almost $40 billion in FY22, up 67% from a year before (albeit aided by a lower base).

SANDEEP DAS
New Delhi, May 18

MANDI PRICES OF wheat were ruling just above the minimum support price (MSP) on Wednesday in Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh, Gujarat and Delhi.

Trade sources told FE that in Punjab and Haryana, arrivals of wheat in mandis have been minuscule, while markets in Madhya Pradesh had been closed for the last two days as traders have been protesting against an abrupt ban on wheat exports imposed by the government last week.

Traders say that only a small quantity of wheat crop is held by farmers currently, as major chunks have been purchased by traders by paying higher than MSP prices in anticipation of a surge in exports.

In Rajasthan, Delhi and Gujarat on Wednesday, mandi prices of wheat were in the range of ₹2,050 a quintal to ₹2,100 a quintal against MSP of ₹2,015 a quintal. "Arrivals have dipped because of a decline in prices following the government announcing a ban on wheat export," Mukesh Traders say that only a small quantity of wheat crop is held by farmers currently, as major chunks have been purchased by traders by paying higher than MSP prices in anticipation of a surge in exports.

India could export around 4.5-mt wheat in the current year

Khatod, a trader from Chittorgarh, Rajasthan, said.

On Monday, mandi prices of wheat had declined by 8% to ₹2,150 a quintal from ₹2,325 a quintal in Rajasthan, Gujarat and Delhi mandis because of the ban imposed by the government last Saturday.

At Sitapur mandi in Uttar Pradesh, India's largest producer of wheat, mandi prices were ₹2,020 per quintal on Wednesday.

"Wheat prices will be ruling around the MSP in the next couple of weeks," Gagan Gupta, a trader and commission agent at Sohore mandi in Madhya Pradesh, said. However, he said the quantity of arrivals would remain small as most of the traders and exporters have completed procurement operations of wheat by now.

In Sohore, one of the biggest wheat markets in Madhya Pradesh, traders said that wheat-loaded trucks moving towards Mundra or Gandhidham port in Gujarat have been halted and there, over 150 trucks of traders who operate in the mandi are stuck at port. As reported earlier, around 6,000 trucks have been stuck in Kandla, as all loading of wheat into ships was stopped following the ban on exports.

However, the government had given relaxation in allowing exports of 0.35 million tonne (mt), besides those consignment having letters of credit. Overall, India could export around 4.5 mt of wheat in the current year. Amid the reports of drop in wheat production to 105 mt from the earlier estimate of 111 mt for the 2021-22 crop year (July-June), government agencies have so far procured 18.09 mt of wheat from farmers, mostly in the key growing states of Punjab, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh and Madhya Pradesh, till Tuesday—a decline of more than 51% compared to the same period in the previous year.

Arrivals of wheat in mandis across the states have dipped despite the government announcing extension of the wheat procurement date for Punjab and Haryana to May 31, while purchase operations will be allowed in Uttar Pradesh and Madhya Pradesh till June 15.
